General Financial Advice

When Asenna advisers provide you with general financial advice you should note that it does not relate specifically to you and therefore may not be appropriate to your particular financial needs, objectives and financial circumstances or in your best interest. You need to take this into account before deciding whether or not to act on it.

Personal Advice

If you request a service that requires Asenna to give you personal financial advice, we will provide you with a nominated adviser. By personal financial advice, we mean that advice that will take into account your personal objectives, financial situation and needs.

Asenna has authorised advisers to provide these financial services to you and the details of your nominated adviser can be found in the Adviser Profile given with this FSG where appropriate. The Adviser Profile will outline the adviser contact details together with the training, education, experience and authorisations for that adviser. You can also search for your adviser’s details including where your adviser has worked and what products they can advise on by visiting the ASIC Financial Adviser Register at

<https://www.moneysmart.gov.au/investing/financial-advice/financial-advisers-register>

Asenna recommends that you should always seek the advice of a qualified Financial Adviser. If our Financial Advisers provide you with personal financial advice your initial discussions with a Financial Adviser should be treated as a Fact Find and you may be required to complete a questionnaire that includes personal information (Please see the Longhou Capital Privacy Policy <https://www.lcmarkets.com.au/about-us/privacy-policy/>). This is important as every situation is unique to the individual and the advice you receive should be tailored to your specific needs and at all times be in your best interest.

This information will allow your adviser to prepare a Statement of Advice (“SoA”) which you will receive at the time or as soon as is practical after the advice is given. This statement will set out the advice, the basis on which the advice was given and any remuneration or other benefit that Asenna, including your financial adviser and associates, may receive. We will also include details of any matter that might reasonably be expected to be capable of influencing us in providing this advice.

If you maintain a personal advice relationship with us, then generally we will not provide a SoA for further advice situations unless there have been significant changes to either your personal circumstances or the basis of the advice since your last SoA was provided. In these circumstances however, we are still required to keep a Record of Advice (“RoA”). You have the right to request a copy of the RoA at any time. You will receive an annual statement disclosing any ongoing fees that you have paid along with the services provided to you. This is an ideal time to discuss the fees you are paying with your adviser, but of course this can be done at any time. You will also receive a renewal notice every 2 years seeking your consent to continue to provide the financial product service to you (this is the Opt-in requirement)

Product Disclosure Statements

We will also give you, where appropriate, a Product Disclosure Statement issued by the product provider containing information you would reasonably require to make a decision about whether to acquire the financial product. The PDS will disclose details of any fees and charges payable for that product.

What Do We Expect From You?

We expect that you will provide us with accurate information that we request so that we have a reasonable basis on which to provide you with general advice.

We expect that you will use our advice to enable you to make informed financial decisions.

What Are The Possible Consequences Of Not Providing This Information?

You are of course at liberty to decline to provide some or all of this information, but if you do not provide it, any general advice recommendations may not be sufficient for you to determine if the recommendation is appropriate to your needs and objectives. In certain cases, your failure to provide information may place us in a position where we cannot provide any advice or any financial services to you.

AML/CTF

As a financial service provider, we have an obligation under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Finance Act to verify your identity and the source of any funds. This means that we will ask you to present identification documents such as passports and drivers licence. We will also retain copies of this information. We assure you that this information will be held as per our Privacy Policy.

Not where General Advice is provided. It will only occur when personal advice is provided and then only once a fact find has been completed.

What Should I Know About Any Of The Risks of The Investment Recommendations Made To Me?

The information provided in the Trading Pit and website does not provide advice about products suitable for your particular needs, objectives or financial circumstances, even if we may have commented in view of the current or future market conditions or prospects for the Securities, Derivatives, Margin Foreign Exchange and Managed Investments.

Trading Derivatives (Margin Foreign Exchange and Contracts for Difference, CFD's) on margin carries a high level of risk, and may not be suitable for all investors. The high degree of leverage can work against you as well as for you. Before deciding to invest in margin foreign exchange and CFD's you should carefully consider your investment objectives, level of experience, and risk appetite. The possibility exists that you could sustain a loss of some or all of your initial investment and therefore you should not invest money that you cannot afford to lose. You should be aware of all the risks associated with margin foreign exchange trading, and seek advice from an independent financial advisor if you have any doubts.
